Music School

AMS provides vocal, instrumental, ensemble, arranging and music production classes. Moreover AMS encourages students to craft their own musical work under our teacher's guidance and supervision.

In order to ensure its relevancy, AMS recruitment policy required every tutor to have both an excellent academic and be an exceptional practitioner in the music industry. A strict and selective process are assured in assigning the suitable teacher for each student to make it beneficial.

In this modern world, Archipelago Music School (AMS) understands that a different way of teaching is required. Equipped with in-depth knowledge and experience in the music industry, we proudly pioneered an adaptive methodology that allows us to serve specifically to each individual's needs.

AMS's main objective is to expose students to materials that will develop their curiosity and interest in music, hence will eventually lead to a better understanding and practical skill in relevance to their musical styles.

To achieve this objective, AMS is committed not to enforce a structured curriculum and eliminate the leveling system. Instead we offer a personalized and flexible approach for each individual which is more applicable and practical according to their genre.
